FROM THE SECRETARIAT

Dear Friends,

This is the last ACSJC Monthly Briefing for the year. The first Briefing for 2008 will be available in February.

Christmas wishes

As we enter the Season of Advent and prepare for the coming of Christ, the Prince of Peace, the Australian Catholic Social Justice Council and its Secretariat would like to take this opportunity to wish all our friends a blessed Christmas season and a New Year filled with new hope.

Thank you to all of our subscribers, Diocesan contacts, colleagues among Church and community organisations, and people who have been striving for social justice throughout the year.

As we review the momentous events of the past year and prepare for the one ahead, we might remember the words of Holy Father

Pope Benedict that were quoted in this year's Social Justice Sunday Statement:

It is true, we are all here in passing, but it is precisely Jesus who makes us feel at home on this earth, sanctified by his presence. He asks us, however, to make it a home in which all are welcome. The surprising gift of Christmas is exactly this: Jesus came for each one of us (refer: www.socialjustice.catholic.org.au/CONTENT/PDF/Statement\_2007\_final.pdf)

We are called, as Christians, to become more like God - the Creator who made us in his own image and likeness. In doing that, we remember especially at this time that God loves us so much that he sent his only son - he became one of us.

Federal Election

Representatives of the Australian Catholic Social Justice Council have just returned from the Second World Congress of Ecclesial Organisations Working for Justice and Peace. The Congress was convened in Rome by the Pontifical Council for Justice and Peace. Around 400 Church delegates from around the world participated.

As a small band of us watched the progress of the Federal Election back home in Australia, we were reminded of just how fortunate we are to be living in a country where citizens have the right and duty to vote in free and fair elections.

We were reminded of the words of the Australian Catholic Bishops in their 2004 Social Justice Sunday Statement, Peace Be With You:

Australians live in a land mercifully free of political violence. This has been achieved by the effort of numerous men and women in creating institutions and ways of acting that ensure participation and inclusiveness so that non-violent political change can occur.

Noting the importance of democracy to the peace of our society, and how it should never be taken for granted, the Bishops added:

Australians should strongly protest at the actions of any governments that repress dissent and suffocate the political process.

We encourage people to join or actively support political parties and "grass-roots" movements; to seek elected office; to keep the democratic process accountable at the local level; to encourage alternative voices regarding the future of Australia; always to engage in the political struggle with the tools of non-violence.

How fortunate we are when we compare our situation to the dire circumstances that were being recounted at the Rome Congress by representatives of the Church in so many other parts of the world enduring repressive military and political regimes that add to already unbearable pressures of poverty and violence.

And yet, we know that there are some groups of citizens in our own prosperous nation who continue to suffer the ravages of poverty and who are unlikely to regard the Australian political process and institutions as adequately addressing their needs or representing their aspirations.

The circumstances faced by our Indigenous sisters and brothers remain an issue of utmost importance waiting for real and sustained political commitment and genuine reconciliation.

The results of the November election are now history. Time will tell what directions Australia will take over the years on issues of national importance - many of them issues of social justice.

At their recent meeting in Sydney, the Australian Catholic Bishops Conference urged the incoming government to reward the faith of the electorate with a commitment to governing in the interests of the common good.

The President of the Bishops' Conference, Archbishop Philip Wilson, said 'It is our hope, and the hope of many, that the Rudd Labor Government will grasp the opportunity to pursue policies which integrate the pursuit of economic prosperity with social justice and an overriding concern for life and the human dignity of all Australians.

'The measure of this will be particularly evident in policies which affect the most vulnerable, including our indigenous brothers and sisters, refugees and asylum seekers, people with disability and their carers, and vulnerable employees in the workplace', Archbishop Wilson said. (www.acbc.catholic.org.au/bishops/pm/20071126932.htm)

Let us join with the Australian Catholic Bishops Conference in praying for Mr Rudd and his colleagues - that Australia's new government will be guided by wisdom, justice and integrity.

May they govern 'for all of us' and with a special concern for the most vulnerable.

The ACSJC is moving!

As from 17 December, our new address will be: 24-32 O'Riordan St, Alexandria, NSW 2015.

Our postal address - PO Box 1615, North Sydney, NSW, 2059 - will remain the same for now. So will our email address and website.

Our phone number is still to be advised, but if you ring our current number (02 9956 5811) you will be redirected to the new number. This arrangement will continue for some months after the move.

For many years we have shared this historic and beautiful North Sydney location with our friends and colleagues at Caritas Australia and the Bishops' Committee for Justice, Development, Ecology and Peace. However, the pressures on this building have become too great. We are fortunate to be able to continue sharing premises with Caritas Australia in a spacious and accessible building in Alexandria.

We are most grateful to Fr Anthony Smith SJ and the parish community of St Francis Xavier, Lavender Bay, for accommodating us over the years.

We look forward to hearing from our friends and colleagues in our new home.

Best wishes,

John Ferguson
National Executive Officer

Current Issues / Resources

YOUNG CATHOLIC WORKERS PUBLICATION: 'THE HOLY SPIRIT COMES'. A comprehensive resource containing practical ideas and strategies to help young people and those working with them in parishes as well as dioceses and schools to prepare for Days in the Dioceses and for pilgrimage to WYD08. 'The Holy Spirit Comes' is the second of three publications that YCS and YCW are creating to assist you to make WYD08 a genuine experience of formation for young people. It follows on from the success of our first resource 'On Fertile Ground: Preparation and Formation Towards WYD08', and is endorsed by Bishop Joe Grech, the Australian Bishops' Delegate for Youth Ministry. Electronic copies are free of charge. Hard copies cost $10 each, including postage and handling. They can be ordered by emailing bethany@aycs.org.au or through the YCW website: <http://www.ycw.org.au>.

BOOK: 'MARY MACKILLOP EAST TIMOR 1994-2006: AN ACCOUNT OF A JOURNEY WITH THE EAST TIMORESE PEOPLE'. An account of a journey: a history book, a story book, a book of photos. Share the story of our journey with the people of East Timor - the children, the anguish, the joy, the challenges. All profits go to the work of Mary McKillop East Timor (MMET). Available at $25.00 per copy plus postage from MMET, PO Box 299, St Marys NSW 1790 or email sc@mmitets.org.au.

BOOK: 'YEARNING TO BREATHE FREE: SEEKING ASYLUM IN AUSTRALIA'. Published by Federation Press, edited by Dean Lusher and Nick Haslam. This overview of the historical, social and political contexts that have shaped Australia's recent treatment of asylum seekers offers a clear-eyed view of the many dimensions of the asylum seeker predicament, including its psychological and humanitarian consequences, and lays out an agenda for change in policy. Sir Gustav Nossal, the Rt Hon. Malcolm Fraser, Senator Lyn Allison, Phillip Adams, Professor Stuart MacIntyre, and Lindsay Tanner MP introduce the six sections. Julian Burnside QC, Dr Carmen Lawrence, Peter Mares, Pamela Curr, Michael Clyne, Linda Briskman, Derrick Silove, Michael Gordon, Arnold Zable and David Manne are among the contributors to the 20 chapters. Available from Federation Press; RRP $39.95. Ph. (02) 9552 2200, Email: info@federationpress.com.au, Web: <http://www.federationpress.com.au>.

BOOK: 'LIFE TO THE FULL: RIGHTS AND SOCIAL JUSTICE IN AUSTRALIA'. Edited by James Franklin; foreword by Archbishop Philip Wilson, President, Australian Catholic Bishops Conference. This collection of 18 essays by different expert authors considers the full range of rights that go to make up a free society fit for a full human life. They apply to current Australian conditions the insights of Catholic social thinking, a perspective both older than the competing ideologies of socialism and capitalism and more in accordance with the real world of the new century. Available from Connor Court Publishing. RRP: $29.95; web: <http://connorcourt.com/catalog1/>.

ADDRESS: LAWYERS' ROLE IN DEFENDING AND CHALLENGING THE RULE OF LAW IN A DEMOCRACY - Fr Frank Brennan's address to the Law Institute of Victoria, 29/11/07. The power of the State can be exercised capriciously and unaccountably when the "Don't ask; don't tell" approach to government is immune from parliamentary, judicial or public scrutiny. It is the task of lawyers to make it more difficult for politicians to take this approach. (refer: <http://www.eurekastreet.com.au/article.aspx?aeid=3892>)

DISCUSSION PAPER: 'NUCLEAR POWER: CURE OR CURSE?'. Commissioned by Catholic Social Services Victoria and the Melbourne Catholic Commission for Justice, Development and Peace in collaboration with the Victorian

Council of Churches, the paper scrutinises the assumption that nuclear power might help reduce greenhouse gas emissions and hence combat climate change, and whether it is a clean and safe form of energy generation. It argues that nuclear power is no solution to climate change and remains an expensive, dangerous form of energy generation. (refer: <http://www.cathnews.com/news/711/175.php>)

Latest Publications

Orders: phone (02) 9956 5811 or download an order form from the ACSJC website: <http://www.socialjustice.catholic.org.au/CONTENT/PDF/TEMPLATE-ORDERFORM.pdf>

NEW SERIES PAPER - 'CONFRONTING THE DEATH PENALTY'

The latest paper in the Catholic Social Justice Series has been published. Titled Confronting the Death Penalty: People, politics and principle, it consists of four essays by authoritative writers on the moral, legal and personal aspects of the death penalty. It follows on from our 2000 publication by Dr Michael Costigan, The Death Penalty: Why Catholics should oppose it (CSJS No 40), and develops the topic in the light of the attacks of 9 September 2001, the international 'war on terror' and the moral and political problems thrown up as we see capital punishment rigorously applied in countries close to us.

Dr Michael Costigan examines the moral and historical dimensions of the death penalty, relating it to Catholic social teaching and the history of the debate around capital punishment. Fr Peter Norden SJ describes his experiences as a parish priest and former prison chaplain. One of his parishioners was Van Tuong Nguyen, the young Australian executed in Singapore in 2005. Brian Deegan, whose son Josh was killed in the Bali bombing in 2002, describes his conflict as he wrestles to reconcile grief and anger with justice and mercy. Professor Andrew Byrnes examines the legal implications of the death penalty in Australia and overseas, including the attitudes of Australian police, governments and political parties.

Confronting the Death Penalty: People, politics and principle is available from the ACSJC: order by phone or through our website. See below for prices and postage.

15 DECEMBER. TV SCREENING: 'BUSINESS ETHICS' (NATIONAL). Aurora Community Television, Foxtel Digital and Austar Digital Channel 183, 1.00pm. This week in Australia we mark Human Rights Week. One important factor within human rights is economic development. We cannot share with the poor what we don't have. And that means that there is a morality about the way in which people, business and nations acquire their wealth and share it. In this film from Loyola Productions we explore the growing area of business ethics. As we prepare for Christmas, this is a perfect time for us to consider these issues. www.catholicchurchtv.com.au
